PRPC Budget Is Questioned

UNDER THE WATCHFUL EYE AND EAR of judges the Canyon High School band, drum major and majorettes performed Tuesday afternoon at Buffalo Bowl in the Region I University Interscholastic League contests. The 76-member band, directed by Gary Zook, received a rating of Division I.

BY CARROLL WILSON
A Randall County Commissioner told members of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission Wednesday that they are getting "the cart before the horse," by establishing a budget and seeking an executive director.

Commissioner Bill Butler said he feels the PRPC should "slow down."

Last week the four governmental agencies in the PRPC were presented with a budget of more than $10,000. Each was to pay its share based on a 3-cent per capita rate.

Amarillo and Canyon have already approved the budgetary expenditure.

But, Randall commissioners at their meeting Monday balked at the funds outlay.

"We think you're trying to get the cart before the horse," Butler told the PRPC. "You don't really know how much you need, the finance committee hasn't even met. I think you got in a little bit of a hurry."

Butler referred to a resolution passed by the Randall commission in September which stated that it is that court's opinion that a regional planning commission should have no budget and be limited to elected officials.

"Right now, we don't think you need to have a budget to operate on," he said.

Butler suggested that rather than hire an executive director, PRPC business be worked out through committees which were formed last week.

Leland Nelson, assistant city manager in Amarillo, threw a wrench in that suggestion when he noted that by law, the PRPC must hire an executive director within a year after its establishment to be certified for this region.

Butler met resistance from other members of the PRPC, including Potter County Judge E. H. Foster.

After hearing Butler suggest that the PRPC wait a while to allocate a budget and hire an executive director, Judge Foster asked "you wouldn't want to wait and buy a fire truck until you've got a fire, would you?"

Foster suggested the PRPC collect its available funds—including more than $10,000 from the state—and leave them in the bank until needed.

Chairman R. G. Mills said if Randall County decides not to allocate funds for the PRPC, "we might as well call a halt, put out the fire and go home."

Butler's questions received no official action. Presumably he will present the funding item to Randall Commissioners again Monday. They tabled the request last Monday.

In other action, Butler was named as the PRPC representative to the Comprehensive Area Manpower Plans, which reviews funds for all agencies in the Panhandle which deal with training of men under federal auspices.

Committee chairmen named the following to their committees on the PRPC:

POLICE--Nathaniel Neal, Jerry Kolander, Wylie Alexander, Paul Gaiter, Dan Barger, Judge James Denton, George Dowlen, Elton Cox, Cal-

Commission Balks At PRPC Funds

Randall County Commissioners had second thoughts Monday about their membership in the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (PRPC).

The commissioners were to consider paying a 3-cent per capita sum to the planning entity as Randall County's share for the PRPC budget.

But, when they reached the item on their agenda, they balked, apparently recalling a resolution they had passed Sept. 8.

That resolution, introduced by Commissioner Bill Butler about two weeks before the PRPC was formally organized, read in part that "It is our opinion that such commission (the PRPC) should be composed only of elected officials and committed to no budget."

The commissioners noted that in the PRPC there is no specific reference to establishment of a budget and no clause concerning an executive director.

At the PRPC meeting held last Wednesday, Judge E.H. Foster of Potter County, presented a proposed $10,600 budget and Commissioner Kenneth Olsen of Canyon suggested the possibility of hiring an executive director.

Randall Commissioner Jim Fletcher, who attended last Wednesday's PRPC meeting, told the court the planning commission is setting up a budget primarily to acquire matching funds from the state. "It's recorded in our minutes that there will be no budget and no other than elected officials," Butler said.

"If they're going to change the thing this fast," said Commissioner Glenn Dowlen, "we may not even be interested in staying in it."

The commissioners tabled the request for funds.

Woody Pond, county juvenile probation officer, was authorized by the court to hire an assistant at a salary of $500 per month.

Pond appeared before the court last week and asked for an assistant to aid him in his case load, which now amounts to about 65 juveniles.

A maintenance contract was signed by the commission with Honeywell of Lubbock. The maintenance, which will be done on a monthly and emergency basis for the new courthouse heating and air-conditioning system, will cost the county about $220 per month.

A contract for draperies for the county clerk and county tax assessor-collector was signed to Mrs. Mary Miracle of Amarillo for $853.

In other business, the court tabled a request to join the Texas Association of Counties, which was described as a lobbying group for county commissioners courts.

To join the TAC would cost the county $850 per month.

Apartments In Mill

A 100-unit apartment complex is in the mill for Canyon.

R. H. Lacey, representative of the Pecos Construction Co. of Roswell, N. M., appeared before the Canyon Planning and Zoning Commission Monday night and requested a zoning change for acreage fronting 4th Street between 6th and 8th Avenues.

The commission tabled his request pending more information concerning the proposed apartment project.

Lacey told the Canyon News

the apartments will be of two-story construction.

He said financial backing for the project will come through FHA under section 236. When the apartments are completed, they will be turned over to a non-profit local organization for management.

Lacey said the apartments are designed to rent to lower income families. But, he said if they are not rented to lower income families in Canyon, they will be available to the general public for occupancy.

Between four and five buildings will constitute the apartment complex, each containing between 16 and 24 units.

Lacey said Pecos Construction Co. has completed similar apartment projects throughout New Mexico and is building one in the Dallas-Fort Worth area now.

He said the apartments, even though they are basically for low to middle income families, will be of better construction than most modern apartment buildings.

He said this is due to stringent requirements which must be met before FHA approval is given to the project.

The apartments which are on the drawing board for Canyon are partially brick, and will be air-conditioned.

"They will be an asset to the community," Lacey said.

The planning and zoning commission has set a public hearing on the apartment complex request for Dec. 1 in the city hall annex.

In other action Monday night, the commission tabled a request by Elmer Clement for a zoning change to construct a mobile home park in the 400 block of 4th Avenue in Canyon.

Two persons appeared before the commission to protest Clement's request.

Also tabled was a request by Mrs. H. O. Baker of Paramount City, Calif., and Mrs. Mae B. Nelson of Lubbock to rezone the south side of 13th Avenue in the 2300 block to accommodate an apartment complex.

News Ad

"I want to cancel my classified ad. It got the job done and that's it."

This testimony came from Mrs. L.A. Cooper who ran a furnished apartment for rent in The Canyon Sunday News.

"I had at least a dozen calls. Take it out," she went on.

Does Job

Sprint-type Attack Will Face Buffaloes

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, having pushed their season record above the .500 mark, will attempt to keep it there when they invade Kalamazoo, Mich., Saturday to play the Western Michigan Broncos.

The Broncos have won only three of five games this fall, but they appear to be rounding into shape after coach Bill Doolittle switched his method of attack.

Western Michigan rode the passing arm of quarterback Mark Bordeaux last fall, but the Broncos have gone to a sprint-out type of attack this fall and are making good use of the triple option play. Ted Grignon is the engineer of the new attack, but Bordeaux is still around for the serious throwing.

With Bordeaux leading the way the Broncos scared West Texas State with its offense before falling in a wild game, 53-36. The Buffs took a 30-7 decision in the first meeting of the schools in 1966.

Grignon has hit on 30 of 69 passes for 328 yards and four touchdowns and has rushed 77 times for 236 yards and four six-pointers. Bordeaux has 24 pass completions in 47 efforts for 275 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Greg Flaska, the Bronco tight end, has 27 receptions for 293 yards. Al Bellie, the flanker who performed so well against the Buffs last fall, has 19 passes caught for 230 yards and two scores. Bordeaux hit on 22 of 32 passes against the Buffs last fall.

With their new offense, the Broncos opened their season with a 24-0 win over Central Michigan, but then lost three games in a row, two by shut-outs.

The University of Pacific took a 21-0 win and Miami of Ohio won 24-0, while Bowling Green edged the Broncos, 21-10.

Western Michigan's offense has come around in the final four games as the Broncos (See BUFFS, Page 11)

Sorghum Losses Thought Not To Be Heavy Locally

Weekend rains further delayed the harvest of Randall County's grain sorghum crop, which farmers had hoped to get in this week.

Canyon received nearly an inch of rain Saturday and Sunday and fields which had begun to dry out in the sunshine of last Thursday and Friday were once again boggy as the sun reappeared Monday.

County Agent John Brazzil said that, though cotton is not a major money crop in Randall County, there are about 1,500 to 1,800 acres of it and the recent moisture has undoubtedly caused quality loss.

He said the "heavy frost" of Monday morning was not enough to cause much of the grain sorghum stalks to fall, though some of it is down. "The weekend rain will mean another two or three days delay in cutting the grain sorghum, but I don't think enough of it has fallen to cause any major loss," he said.

He said about 1,000 acres of sugar beets are also being grown in Randall County and that the muddy conditions have delayed the digging of that money crop.

Ed Wieck of Umbarger, one of the main sugar beet growers in the county, said he didn't think the weather of late has hurt the crop any.

"A few dry days and we'll be able to dig again," he said. "Freezing weather doesn't hurt the sugar beet plants. Oh, if it got down to below zero it might hurt them a little."

He said that prior to the last digging, which was Oct. 15, the sugar content of the beets was "exceptionally low." He said this was caused by the unusual amount of moisture in August and the high humidity that followed causing a fungus to set in that injured the leaves of the plant.

"When the plants lose their leaves they lose the ability to manufacture sugar which is made from the chemical action of the sunlight on the leaves. "We haven't tested the beets for sugar content since the last (See SORGHUM, Page 11)

Buff Player Arrested Monday In Amarillo

A felony charge of theft over $50 was filed in Amarillo this week against West Texas State football player Ralph Anderson.

The outstanding defensive safety for the Buffs is accused of stealing a television set from a room in the Flamingo Motel, 3101 Amarillo Blvd. in Amarillo.

He was released from the Potter County jail after posting $1,000 bond.

The manager of the motel told police officers that the television set was discovered missing Monday after a Negro man and woman, who had taken the room under the name of Charles Parks of San Bernardino, Calif., had left.

One of the officers had earlier Monday stopped Anderson and issued him a warning ticket for a traffic violation and at the time noticed a television set in the car, police said.

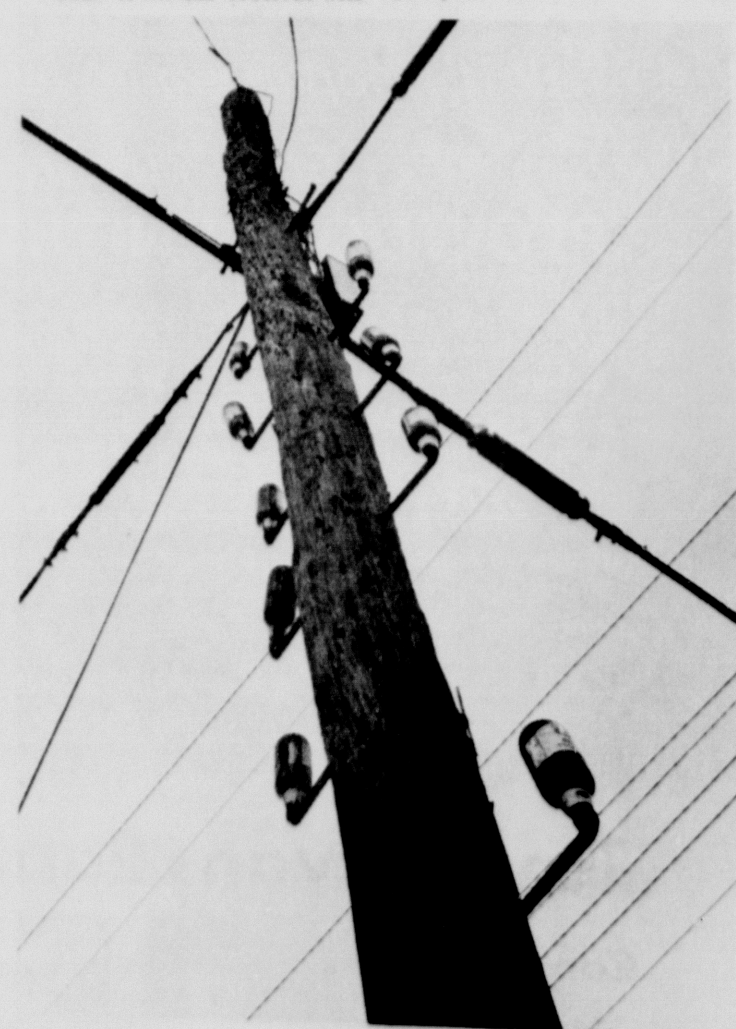

Anderson is a 20-year-old junior and has been a starter for the Buffs this season.

A spokesman for WT said Wednesday that football coach Joe Kerbel intended taking no action against Anderson until it is proven to his satisfaction that the player has done something wrong.

The athlete maintains the television set in his car belonged to a team mate and that he did not steal a television set from the motel, the spokesman said.

"Back to the good old days" is a symptom of getting older fast; but I must take the risk and remember fondly yester-years in Canyon when we could run to the store or to the post office or even go to church without locking the doors of our home.

If one of the bottles should happen to fall...but what are they doing there in the first place? This Canyon utility pole was decorated recently either by a prankster or somebody who really "got high" on that "Pure Rocky Mountain Spring Water."

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission held its first meeting in Canyon last week.

The board members made small talk over luncheon and then went into executive session after asking spectators and news people to leave.

The excuse was that the group was going to discuss committee appointments. This made an executive or secret session legal but at the same time unwise.

PRPC has been under criticism since its inception and needs all the public scrutiny it can get and it's not going to get much favorable publicity if it does most of its work under wraps.

I agree that a man's name should not be bandied about in a public meeting if he is unaware that his name is going to be mentioned. I think that if a person is to be mentioned as a candidate for a PRPC committee post he should be notified in advance and his permission secured.

If he gives his permission, then he is fair game. His qualifications should be discussed in public and printed in the public press. In that manner the people whom he is being appointed to serve may assess his qualifications.

If appointments are discussed only in secret as has been done by the PRPC board, then how will the citizens who foot the bill be able to exercise any influence in how they are made?

Far from protecting the individual being discussed, secret meetings could make him the victim of some prejudiced board member. Such prejudice seldom survives long when subjected to public view.

I agree that secret meetings make things easier for the officials involved but they don't do much for freedom and self government.

There can be little valid criticism of a sales tax. It is much fairer than any ad valorem tax—the most unjust tax every devised.

A sales tax would spread the cost of government and government services across a wide base of those being served.

Canyon city officials say the city is in need of more revenue to keep up with the city service which the public demands. If we must have a sales tax, I'd much rather see that than an increase in the ad valorem tax.

I have known for a long time that a city sales tax is inevitable but I had hoped that Canyon merchants would get a few months respite after Amarillo's tax goes into effect. I think this might give them a chance to woo some business that is presently going out of town.

I know it takes money to run a city and as Canyon grows more and more money will be required for its operation.

Canyon is losing another good policeman. Sergeant Al Stewart is going to work on the Albuquerque, N. M., force where he will draw more than $100 additional pay and several fringe benefits.

Here he is drawing a little more than $400 a month while his new job, where he will be a rookie, pays more than $500.

As long as there is this disparity in pay, Canyon will be a training place for young policemen. We will seldom be able to retain an experienced officer. People who say they want law and order must realize that they will have to pay the officers who give it to them.

The need for a city library is acute. It is almost a disgrace for a city which lays claim to the title of "Education center of the Panhandle" not to have an adequate city library.

Up to now we have been free loading on West Texas State University's fine library but the free loading days may soon be a thing of the past. As West Texas State grows it may become a necessity to limit the use of its library to students and faculty.

No makeshift facility will suffice. We need a library specifically designed as such and I don't see how this can be accomplished without financial participation by the city.

The October 15 "Moratorium" was led by such sterling characters, among others, as David Dellinger, on trial in Chicago for conspiracy to disrupt the Democratic convention; Arnold Johnson, publicity director for the Communist Party, U. S. A., and Fred Halstead, the 1968 Presidential candidate for the Socialist Workers Party, a Trotskyist splinter group.

Now aren't these a bunch of fine leaders to be following in the cause of peace?

"Peace" to the Communist means a time when all other ideologies are outlawed and all dissenters are buried.

Col. Bogen
To Inspect
ROTC Today

Col. Paul L. Bogen, new deputy chief of staff for reserve forces of the Fourth U.S. Army, will visit the West Texas State University Reserve Officers Training Corps today.

Col. Bogen, who was commissioned through the ROTC program in 1937, will arrive on campus about 11 a.m. and will meet until noon with Dr. James P. Cornette, university president, and Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science.

He will be guest at a luncheon at noon in the Gold Room of the East Cafeteria and will review cadets during the regular 1 p.m. Thursday afternoon drill.

He will leave the campus about 3 p.m. to view reserve forces in Amarillo.

The colonel is a veteran of Vietnam.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The latest Kennedy tragedy should prove one thing to Americans: The enforcing of the law is not the responsibility of the police, the army, or the federal government; it is the prerogative of the courts.

Regardless of how rich and powerful a violator may be, he is still subject to the lowliest justice of the peace or county judge. If the laws are ignored, the blame lies with the courts. And jurists are usually elected by the people.

Probably the most powerful part of our judicial system is the jury. Juries are now asked to determine punishment as well as decide guilt—and juries are composed of people.

Anyone who is not appalled by our current crime rate is certainly lacking in awareness. One out of every 50 Americans was the victim of a major crime in 1968, and crime is increasing 9 times faster than the population.

What causes this vicious lawlessness? The causes are complex, of course; but the basic reason is open disrespect for law, spawned by court leniency.

The courts seem far more concerned for the welfare of the perpetrators of crime than they are for the victims; therefore both increase.

But it has not always been thus. In the early days of our nation, when the federal government had almost no power, the counties and states kept the peace quite effectively. Since Washington has usurped power all the way from the state down to the humblest home in the smallest community, about all the federal government has done has been obstruct justice.

The local courts have so little to gain by convicting a criminal, since the Supreme Court has majored on making laws instead of interpreting them, that they apparently feel it is to their financial advantage to turn him loose as quickly as possible. Why not save more money by not apprehending him at all?

A recent Supreme Court decision has truly opened Pandora's Box. Not satisfied with shackling the police, now they have handcuffed the Army. Five of the self-appointed "divines" have decreed that the Army has no jurisdiction over personnel who commit crimes against civilians—and the decision is retroactive.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth Hodson, Army judge advocate general, estimated that as many as 2,000 of the 4,000 military prisoners currently serving time in stockades and federal prisons might be affected by the Supreme Court's decision.

Hodson also estimated that as many as 450,000 court-martial convictions handed down since 1951 might be set aside if the persons involved or their families sought redress.

Just how does this involve "average citizens"? In addition to freeing 2,000 more criminals to prey upon us, it is going to cost millions of dollars. Take one serviceman for example:

Steven J. Borys, 31, an army captain, was court martialled and convicted of robbery and rape in 1964. On Sept. 5, 1969, Borys was set free, restored to rank and duty, and awarded $50,000 in back pay.

Try multiplying that by 450,000!

The 49 out of 50 lucky Americans who escape being felled by felons in 1969 will not escape picking up the tab for their depredations. In addition to police and court costs, there are handsome salaries for the judges who coddle the criminals.

Anyone who does not want to be one of those victims should resolve to mete out punishment to fit the crime the next time he serves on a jury. And when election time comes, he should vote against every judge who does not do the same. He should also write his congressmen and demand that they make every effort to stop the Supreme Court from usurping the legislative powers, and dictating to every facet of our lives.

When the courts make crime unprofitable, it will be certain to decrease.

Overseas Christmas Mail Deadline Near

Time is short for mailing Christmas parcels to members of the Armed Forces overseas by surface transportation. November 8 is the latest time to use the surface means.

"SAM" (Space Available Parcel Airlift) has to be mailed by November 20th. These parcels are accepted at surface postage rates, may not exceed 5 pounds in weight and 60 inches in length and girth combined, and will be airlifted on a space available basis from the port of dispatch shown in the address to the overseas military post office.

"PAL" parcels have to be in the mails by November 29th. Upon the payment of a fee of $1.00 in addition to the regular surface rate of postage, a parcel not exceeding 30 pounds in weight or 60 inches in length and girth combined will be transported by air on a space available basis from the place of mailing to the overseas military post office.

Regular Airmail has to be mailed by December 13th.

The term "Armed Forces Overseas" includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families, and U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO or FPO, New York, San Francisco or Seattle.

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be well tied with strong cord. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed. A slip showing list of contents and name and address of sender and addressee, should be enclosed in the parcel. Customs Declaration forms, completed by the sender, are required on parcels to many destinations.

Christmas cards and packages to friends and relatives in foreign countries is the primary concern of the postalemployees at the present time for their patrons.

Taking into consideration the normal length of time of transit, irregularity of steamship sailings to some destinations (in the case of surface packages), customs inspection, and other formalities that packages containing merchandise may be subject to in the countries of destination, surface and air packages should be mailed by the following dates to reach the addressees before Christmas:

SURFACE PACKAGES
Canada and Mexico	Dec. 5
South and Central America	Nov. 15
Europe	Nov. 15
Africa	Nov. 1
Near East	Nov. 1
AIR PACKAGES
Canada and Mexico	Dec. 16
South and Central America	Dec. 14
Europe	Dec. 14
Africa	Dec. 10
Near East	Dec. 10
Far East	Dec. 10

Letters and greeting cards should be posted no later than 5 days after the above dates for delivery in other countries before Christmas.

Parcels have to be adequately packed and require customs declarations to all foreign countries.

About 30 West Texas State University students traveled by chartered bus recently to the BSU (Baptist Student Union) state convention held in Dallas.

First Game For Girls

Canyon High School's girl basketball team, defending state champion, plays its first game of the season Saturday against Gruver at the Plainview Basketball Clinic.

Coach Bob Schneider said he was pleased with the girls' progress so far, and said they showed plenty of potential in pre-season scrimmages against Stratford and Panhandle.

The Girl Eagles were hard pressed to beat Stratford 41-38 last Saturday.

Following the scrimmages, Schneider said he was especially pleased with the defense, but said the offense needed to work hard on timing and shooting.

Canyon will play 20 non-district games, not counting games in three tournaments the Girl Eagles are scheduled to participate in, before opening district play on Jan. 13 against Tulia.

The noon meeting will be in the American Legion Hall with Durward Brown, Kiwanis Club president, in charge.

News Brief

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Gaston were hosts Saturday evening for a group of local residents.

Those present for the evening of games and guitar playing were Mr. and Mrs. Don Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gordon, Alec and Amy, of Bushland, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sides and daughter of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Trim and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ford McIntosh and Sandy and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and Carolyn.

homefield.

"Alamo Catholic will play anybody anytime any place," Coach Clark Mires said after Dimmitt, the scheduled opponent for tonight, canceled out. "I imagine if we wanted to meet them halfway and play them out at Stuckey's they'd be there."

The last time the two teams met, the Eagles won in a 47-0 cakewalk, but apparently the spirited Mustangs are undaunted.

If the Eagles win again, it will be their seventh win of the season against no losses and no ties.

"I've never been more proud of anybody than I am of these kids," Mires told the Eagle Booster Club Tuesday night. "They said last May that their goal was to go undefeated this season and I've never seen anybody work harder toward a goal."

"After this game they still have to beat Tulia and Perryton

WT Tracksters Open In 'Dome

West Texas State University's track team opens its season Feb. 13 and 14 at the Astro-dome Relays in Houston.

The Buffaloes of coach Bob Kitchens will host the West Texas State Invitational April 19. Other teams entered in that meet are University of Texas at Arlington, McMurry and Wayland.

Other meets are Southwest Recreation in Fort Worth, Feb. 28; Border Olympics in Laredo, Mar. 7; University of Texas at Arlington Duel, Mar. 14; Hi-Plains Invitational at Plainview, Mar. 21; Texas Tech Invitational, Mar. 28; Texas Relays at Austin, Apr. 3-4; Howard Payne Invitational at Brownwood, Apr. 11; Wayland Invitational at Plainview, Apr. 25; and Eastern New Mexico University Duel at Canyon, May 9.

Dr. and Mrs. Strauss Atkinson of First Baptist Church of Canyon are this week attending the Baptist General Convention in San Antonio.

Goode--No Excuses For Loss

Eagle Coach Dunny Goode offered no excuses for the 42-0 loss to Dumas last Friday but did ask members of the Eagle Booster Club Tuesday night not to "get down on the boys."

"I know in some places you'll hear a coach say he doesn't win because his boys are no good, but I don't believe in that," Goode said. "Don't think that our boys are no good because if you think that it'll turn out that way. If you think they're good, they'll be good."

"We're taking a positive approach to the Perryton game. It'll be the toughest of our last three ball games and we'd like to finish the season 6-3-1, which would mean winning all three remaining games."

"We'd like to be the first Canyon team to finish with a winning record since Canyon started playing AAA ball and that was six years ago."

Looking back at the loss to Dumas, Goode said, "They got us off balance from the beginning and kept us off balance the rest of the way."

Shifting to a lighter vein, the coach said when he went home after the loss, the doors were locked and when he went around to the back of the house the dog bit him.

In appraising the Eagles' next opponent, Coach Goode pulled no punches. He didn't try to build the Rangers up, but described them as he felt they really are.

"Perryton is not quite the ball club that Hereford is," he said, "but they are tough mentally. I say mentally and not physically because they are not real big. They are about like us in size."

"They played Hereford real tough, but that was Perryton's homecoming game and they were still in the title picture then so I'm sure they were up for it."

"They led Hereford 8-2 until the last three minutes of the game when Hereford showed a lot of character and drove down for the winning score."

Kerbel announced the loss of linebacker Jeff Maillard, who was injured in the final two minutes of action against UTA. Maillard underwent surgery for a torn ligament in his leg Monday.

Speaking of this Saturday's game, Kerbel said Western Michigan will be tough.

"It'll be cold up there," he said. "But, our team is showing a lot of improvement and doing a lot of things we ought to be doing."

Offensively, Kerbel said, the Buffs are smaller than the Broncos.

He singled out John Notaro and Rick Fangman as outstanding players in the UTA game.

The final score was Hereford 9, Perryton 8. The Whitefaces beat Canyon 13-0 two weeks ago.

W. V. McAlpin, junior high school football coach and assistant on the club program and said he and his staff were pleased with the progress made by the young gridders.

Jay White and Bill Moore, who quarterbacked the two 9th grade teams were introduced to club members.

"Our 7th graders are smaller overall than any 7th graders we've had in some time," Coach McAlpin said, "and are more immature than some. They have trouble taking care of their equipment which usually winds up being left on the floor so we're constantly picking up after them, probably like some of you mothers have to do at home."

"But they've made tremendous progress since the beginning of the season. They've still got a long way to go but then they're young."

He said the two 9th grade teams have good size but are just now learning to "use their bodies to their advantage."

He pointed out that while last year the 9th graders won only two ball games, this year's teams have a combined record of 6-5.

"As a group they're poor," McAlpin said. "But just in the last two weeks they've shown good improvement. They are tackling better and blocking better."

McAlpin said the 8th graders, overall, are probably the strongest class in junior high school.

"We have good size on our 8th grade teams and some real good boys at key positions. We've had four new 8th graders move in to Canyon and all four are good athletes who have helped. We split them up, putting two on the White team and two on the Purple team."

B. B. Kendrick, boys' high school basketball coach gave a brief report on the Eagles basketball squad which began work-outs Oct. 15.

Kendrick said the Eagles would scrimmage Caprick High School at Amarillo beginning at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 15 in preparation for the opening regular season game against Amarillo High School on Nov. 25.

He said this year's team would be small but that the outside shooting would be good. "We have better outside shooters than we did last year," the coach said.

Following the Amarillo High game, the Eagles take on Lubbock Dunbar and catch Plainview in the fourth game.

"If we can get through the first four games without being completely shellshocked, we will probably do all right," Kendrick said.

Two Compile Fact Brochure

Dr. C.C. Callarman and Dr. Zeke Marchant, both of the West Texas State University school of business, are compiling a brochure of facts concerning Canyon and the university.

The brochure, which should be published within the month, will include between 125 and 150 short facts about everything from university athletics to Panhandle climate.

Dr. Callarman said the brochure will be about 18 inches long and folded and about six inches tall. It will fit in a regular business envelope.

He said the brochures will be given to persons desiring to send them with business or personal correspondence, will be distributed at various businesses in town and through the WTSU school of business.

Farmers Union To Host Supper

Randall County Farmers Union will host a barbecue supper at 7 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Junior Livestock Barn in Canyon for visiting membership campaigners.

The campaigners, including the state Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco, will fly throughout the Mid-West to gain membership in the Union.

They will be hosted in Amarillo and by Mr. and Mrs. James Lamb.

Joe Gidden Gets Award

Joe N. Gidden, Canyon manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, was among 88 of the electric company's Panhandle Division employees receiving awards Tuesday night at the annual service awards dinner in Amarillo.

Gidden received a 20-year award from Roy Tolk of Amarillo, president of the company. The top honorees were Paul Williamson of Guymon, Oklahoma, who is in the meter department, and Lloyd Colvin, retired division auditor at Amarillo, who received 35-year awards.

Mr. and Mrs. Coalbert Triplett of Woodward, Oklahoma were Monday guests in the Arvin Triplett home.

fields. Although deer populations are slightly down from last year, they seem in good shape, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists. The deer are particularly in good shape in the Permian Basin area where good antler formation and body condition are evident.

The general outlook for West Texas includes the Permian Basin, the Panhandle and the Trans-Pecos and according to the department prospects are good.

Bobwhite quail appear to be good in both the Permian Basin and the Panhandle with an increase in quail numbers noted in the Permian Basin and a good holdover population in the Panhandle.

The Permian Basin also has a higher-than-average turkey population this year and seem to be in excellent condition. Hunters may kill both gobblers and hens in the Permian Basin this year for the first time.

In addition, the Panhandle had a good turkey hatch this year and the population is up slightly, according to the report.

Mule deer hunting in both the Panhandle and Trans-Pecos should be good this year with a 46 percent increase in population in the Panhandle.

$200 Scholarship Given

Mrs. Mary Curtis, 22, of Canyon was presented the $200 Albessa M. Stephenson Scholarship for the 1969-70 academic year at West Texas State University by President James P. Cornette Monday.

The scholarship was set up in 1966 by Charles H. Stephenson of Canyon in memory of his sister, a longtime member of the library staff at the university.

Mrs. Curtis is a freshman majoring in data processing and computer science. Prior to enrolling as a fulltime student this fall Mrs. Curtis earned

Bandsman Earn Rating

Canyon High School came away from the University Interscholastic League marching band and twirling contests with a Division I rating.

Directed by Gary Zook, the Canyon High School Band marched on the field under the leadership of drum major Ric Wester.

Buffalo Bowl at West Texas State University was the site for Tuesday's competition.

The three CHS majorettes received Division II for solo performances and a Division III on ensemble performance. Twirlers are Marville Airhart, Andrea Shepic and Gail Thompson.

As bandsmen and their music filled the air, a variety of music filled the stadium and judges sat back to listen and observe an all day show.

Bedecked in purple, white, maroon, red, blue, green and other colorful band uniforms, the public school bandsmen from all over the Region I area of the Texas Panhandle marched in step led by high-stepping drum majors.

Pretty majorettes, in bright costumes, showed their talents at twirling and prancing with their bands throughout the day.

And at the conclusion of each performance, fellow bandsmen from all over the Panhandle gave their well wishes to others by a clap of the hands and a cheer.

As ratings were announced following each classification of performance, the roar of "congratulations" went up from the crowd.

Charles H. Stephenson, right, watches as Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University, presents a $200 scholarship check to Mrs. Mary Curtis of Canyon. Stephenson created the scholarship in memory of his sister, the late Albessa M. Stephenson, longtime member of the WTSU library staff.

CHS Girls Win First Two Season Scrimmages

The Canyon High School Girl Eagles downed Stratford's girl basketball team 41-38 there last Saturday and then bombed Panhandle 67-39 Tuesday night. Both outings were only scrimmages and will not count on the season's won-lost record.

"Stratford really got after us," Coach Bob Schneider said. "We started off a little slow... a little shaky, but about the middle of the second quarter we started playing like I thought we were capable of playing. We had to because they were really putting the pressure on us."

Cheryl Davis, an All-Stater last year on defense, led the Girl Eagle scorers with 17 points.

"I was real pleased with Cheryl's performance. She's doing real fine at her new position," Schneider said.

Linda Lehman pumped in 12 points against Stratford and Jan Sternberg contributed 8. Stratford trailed by only one point at the end of the half and at the end of the third quarter and was in the struggle all the way.

"Overall I thought we had a real good scrimmage, but I'm concerned that we didn't really get after it till we were really pushed. We need to get started from the word go. I mean just hit the floor and really go. I talked to the girls after the scrimmage and they agreed with me that they were slow to start, but I think they'll do better and so do they."

The coach said he was especially pleased with his girls' defensive effort but that work was needed on the offense's timing and shooting.

"There were quite a few times when we had a girl open for a second and either passed too early or too late. This kept us from scoring several times."

"Our rebounding on offense wasn't real good either and we'll have to work on that."

The Girl Eagles hit only 39 per cent of their shots from the field and 65 per cent from the free throw line.

Coach Schneider said the Girl Eagles had 17 turnovers "which isn't good, but it's not real bad for the first scrimmage."

He said that according to his grading system Jenna Thompson played the best game with a score of plus 11.

"We feel that anytime a girl grades as high as 7 or 8 she's played a real good game."

Linda Dudenhoeffer had a grade of plus 9 and Linda Brown had a plus 6.

Schneider said that defensively Margaret Patterson and Linda Brown were the most improved players.

He started Linda Brown, Linda Dudenhoeffer and Jenna Thompson on defense and Cheryl Davis, Jan Sternberg and Linda Lehman on offense.

He pointed out that starter Cindy Jones, who has been out of action with a fractured finger, will be ready to play in the season opener Saturday against Gruver at Plainview.

The junior varsity outscored Stratford's JV 42-33 in five quarters under game-type conditions.

Leading scorers were Chris Tucker with 11 points and Lynette Slack with 9.

"I was real pleased with the junior varsity defense," Schneider said. "We got real good effort out of Roxie Knox, Connie Stark, Barbara Russell, Karen Pettit, Julie Coffman, Mary Miller and Debbie Rossi."

Sorghum....

He said if the skies stay clear and the temperature doesn't get too high the sugar content should rise, but that a couple of days with the temperature in the 70s could result in new top growth in the plants and a loss in sugar content.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it--and so do its readers.

Rangers....

He said his starting fullback was injured and did not play against Hereford and that one of his starting tackles was not able to play in that game because of scholastic difficulties.

"The tackle will play against Canyon, but the fullback is a question mark," Smith said.

Coach Goode said the Eagles will have to play their very best to beat Perryton on the Rangers' homefield.

He said he would probably start Mike Swartzell at quarterback with David Carter splitting time at that position.

The Ranger offense will probably be quite familiar to the Eagle defense.

"The past two weeks they've run from a split set exactly like ours," Goode said. "Before that they ran from an I formation."

He said that though Perryton lacks the size of Hereford and Dumas "they are quick and mentally tough."

Goode said he has hopes the Eagles can win their last three ball games to post a 6-3-1 season record. If they do, it will be the first time the Eagles have had a winning season since they entered AAA competition six years ago.

News Brief

Canyon city commissioners will consider Thursday night a request by Arch Hunsley, Canyon developer, to extend water and sewer lines to a proposed subdivision near Hunsley Hills. The commission meets at 7 p.m.

have scored at least two touchdowns in each of the games. They won over Kent State, 33-13, but fell to Toledo, 38-13, and bounced back to take a 48-14 decision over Marshall.

Last week the Broncos took a 17-0 lead into halftime intermission against powerful Ohio University, but failed to halt a rally and fell, 22-17.

The Buffaloes will carry a 4-3 season mark into the clash. They played their finest game of the season Saturday in beating the University of Texas at Arlington Rebels, 41-7.

Buff defenders picked off five passes during the contest and returned two for touchdowns. Offensively, the Buffs picked up 235 rushing yards and 105 passing.

Besides the two interception returns for touchdowns, the Buffaloes turned two of the other interceptions into scores.

Raymond Brown and Billy Lantow each picked off a pair of Arlington passes. Lantow returned one of his interceptions 31 yards for a touchdown giving the Buffs a 9-0 lead early in the second quarter. Brown carried one of his thefts back 39 yards to score. Troy Anderson intercepted the other Arlington pass.

Duane Thomas and Clarence Redie were the offensive backfield leaders for West Texas. Thomas carried 28 times for 84 yards as the Rebel defense keyed on him throughout the contest. Redie hit on six of nine passes for 55 yards.

Rocky Thompson and Olan Thompson combined for 124 yards. Rocky raced for 63 yards and Olan 61.

Arlington was limited to 12 completions out of 32 attempts for 132 yards. The Rebels had 140 rushing yards during the clash which saw the Buffaloes score 28 points in the second quarter.

In Western Michigan the Buffaloes will be playing a team which put on a high-power offensive show at Buffalo Bowl last year. West Texas came out of that game with a 53-36 decision.

Although at time of death the spirit departs the unneeded body, it is only natural for the bereaved family to revere the body as the symbol of the departed. TIED IN KNOTS, Mrs. Vaughn Nelson is reviving a handicraft art which was known in ancient times. She is shown here creating knots for a hammock-style chair in her home at 1407 Creekmore.

Macrame Knotting Hobby Is Revival Of Art

BY LORENA MILLER

"Sometimes I'm just all tied up in knots," said Mrs. Vaughn Nelson of 1407 Creekmore, Canyon.

Mrs. Nelson has for the past 18 months been creating "macrame" as a hobby. She began the project while living in South America, where her husband was an exchange physics professor at the University Oriente in Venezuela. He is now in the physics department at West Texas State University here.

"We spent two years in South America," said Mrs. Nelson. "Because supplies for knitting and other handwork supplies were limited without a trip to Caracas, I wrote my aunt (Mrs. J. H. McNickle in Ashland, Kansas) and told her that I was desperate for a new creative hobby and she sent me a book on Macrame, the art of creative knotting, by Virginia I. Harvey."

The book was the beginning of what has now developed into a fulltime hobby for Mrs. Nelson. She also expresses herself through knitting and sewing, likes music, reading and working with the Girl Scout movement since coming to Canyon.

Known as Beth, Mrs. Nelson was raised in Ashland, Kansas and had never been artistic in her youth. She has never studied art prior to taking on her new hobby and now hopes to attend the university here to take basic courses in design arrangement.

Mrs. Nelson's new hobby is "an ancient art now being revived."

Macrame is the French word meaning knotted lace and there is no record of the beginning of the craft. Some of the earliest examples preserved have been game bags used for catching wild beasts, according to the book.

In Arabic literature, macrame was used for kerchiefs and shawls and early macrame was knotted from the unweaved ends of fabric, thus forming a lacy patterned finish instead of an abrupt ending as a hem. After 1500 macrame developed into its present form simultaneously with needle made lace and bobbin lace, according to the author of the book.

When Mrs. Nelson began learning her new hobby in South America, she was unaware that the girls of the Peace Corps on Margarita Island (off the coast of Venezuela) were showing the natives ways of utilizing knotting.

She expressed "great admiration for the Peace Corp kids who are doing their job. They are not living an easy life- and are teaching the natives crafts which can be used in many ways".

According to Mrs. Nelson "Macrame is used for fishermen's netting, used for hammocks, wall hangings, as lamp covers and pull cords, belts, room dividers and even as decorative chair seating".

Her largest project to date has been a series of chairs, one of which she is currently working on. The first finished knotted chair was given to the aunt who started her on the hobby of macrame.

Frames for the chairs were given to Mrs. Nelson by her uncle "who was going to cart them to the junkyard". She hopes in the future to come across some worn out frames for director's chairs to create seats and backs with the macrame knotting.

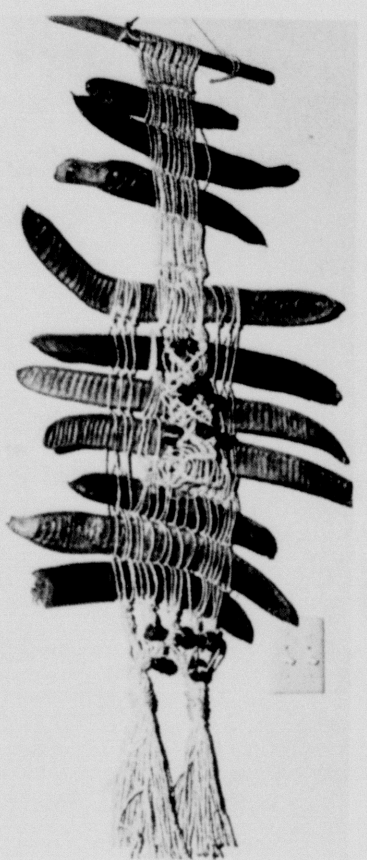

All types of string and yarns are used by Mrs. Nelson for her hobby. The macrame consists of varying knots including a half knot (the first half of a square knot), horizontal and vertical half hitches, a double knotted twist (the Josephine) and many others.

For each project, said Mrs. Nelson "you need to cut the string about 4 times as long as the planned finished product and then if you knot tight or intricately it may even need to be longer than that".

"It just takes practice," she related. "I began with a clipboard and towel to make trims and wall hangings from the knotted macrame."

An additional note of interest is that the "knotted chairs" may be removed to the lawn, hosed off and dried for ease in care. She said that the chairs are "most comfortable as they mold to the person sitting in the chair."

"In the light they give varied designs which is most interesting," related Mrs. Nelson. In addition to her chairs, she has numerous wall hangings in her home made from the macrame including one unusual hanging which is accented with dried and preserved bean pods from South America.

UNUSUAL wall hanging made from Macrame knotting and dried, preserved bean pods from South America.

Mrs. Nelson is always "on the look out" for new kinds of knotting material and string. She also said that leather, rug yarn, plastic strips and knitting yarn may be used.

She said that "macrame" is an expressive technique with no hard and fast rules and very few limitations.

WITH A WALL HANGING, Mrs. Vaughn Nelson says that her hobby, although unusual, is an "ancient craft" which she learned while living in South America where handicraft supplies were limited.

Academic Ideas AAUW Topic

"What Comprises the Academic Community" was the topic of discussion at Saturday's meeting of the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Claiborne Crain introduced the speakers, Mrs. Jean Moore and Phil Cates. Mrs. Moore is associate dean of women at West Texas State University and Cates is associate dean of student affairs at the university.

Mrs. Moore discussed the multiplicity of roles performed by modern women in society today. She said that "women are urged to seek professional careers and to participate in government and community affairs".

"As the preservers of life and the family structure," Dean Moore said "women are in a position to make known their feelings and attitudes about problems confronting the nation today".

Cates discussed the essence of a college education, the experience of attending college and being faced with the facts of life.

"Youth must get involved and take responsibility, not for acquiring material things alone," he said, "but in the search for a deeper purpose in life."

He urged the "older generations" to take the responsibility for conveying to the younger generation the meaning of an abundant life for individual persons.

Pledge 4 From City

Four Canyon girls have pledged various social sororities during fall formal rush at West Texas State University.

Through preferential matching the sororities and girls made mutual choices.

Pledging Alpha Delta Pi is Karen Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Donovan.

Dena Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean A. Nicholas.

Accepted into Chi Omega are Diana Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Andrews and Kathy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brown.

Formal initiations are expected to be held early next year, following the issuance of semester grade reports.

Mrs. Duane Guy, branch president, presided during a short business meeting.

The group met in the home of Mrs. W. F. Haggard with Mrs. Bill Lee, Mrs. Edward Schmutzer, Mrs. Donna Wilson and Mrs. Earline Moreman as co-hostess.

Open To Public

"CAKE DECORATING" will be the subject of a special interest program by Mrs. Margaret Tucek on Monday, November 10, at 2 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building. The program, sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council, is open to the general public at no charge. She will demonstrate various party-cake decorating ideas.

High School FTA Convenes At WT

About 900 high school students from throughout the Panhandle attended the District 16 convention of the Future Teachers of America held Tuesday at West Texas State University.

Jay Jones, a junior at Tascosa High School in Amarillo, and Ronda Muir, a senior at Tascosa, were chosen Mr. and Miss FTA on the basis of speeches on the theme "Education: Eternal Enrichment."

The two will go on from this district to compete for state titles.

Miss Muir refuted a "trend of thinking on campuses today that education is worthless..." by saying the main purposes of education are the encouragement of inquisitiveness, the absorption of information, and the best use of that information.

Jones said men are still asking questions that have been asked since the beginning of time. Questions like "Who are we?" and "Why are we here?"

He said schools not only teach young people skills and information, but "how to deal rationally with the problems of our time and what to expect in the future."

New District 16 officers chosen at the convention are Nancy Evans of White Deer, president; Steve Stone of Palo Duro in Amarillo, vice president; Susan Hergert of Perryton, financial secretary; Sherry True of Borger, recording secretary; John Roksandich of Tascosa, parliamentarian, and Margo Watson of Claude, historian.

Keynote speaker Tuesday morning was Lee Hicks of Austin, field representative for the Texas State Teachers Association, and the students attended various workshops in the afternoon.

At one workshop the students were told by Mrs. Elaine Lebetter, science teacher at Pampa High School, that they should be "scientifically literate" no matter what field they choose. She said they should be knowledgeable about scientific processes and able to separate fact from fallacy.

Another workshop group was told about innovations in special education.

There is a need for teachers who have understanding and sympathy for mentally retarded students, said Reuben Schantz, vocational adjustment coordinator at Amarillo High.

He said many mentally retarded students can learn to function in jobs if someone has confidence in them and gives them a chance.

FIRST PLACE WINNERS in the Halloween Carnival "costume contest" last Thursday were Noelle Platt, Majorette; Paula Johnston, Colonial Lady; Dean Lambert, Batman; Doug Palmer, Dracula; JoAnn White, Tiny Tim; and not pictured, Wendy Brown, Witch. The contest was sponsored by the Tierra Blanca chapter of National Secretaries Association and held in conjunction with the communitywide Canyon Study Club sponsored downtown carnival.

Says Dean Jones

"Memory Formulas Useless"

Dean Mitch Jones of the education and psychology department at West Texas State University, warned Canyon Rotarians Tuesday that selling miracle memory formulas are useless.

Speaking on psychology and magic, Jones performed a simple memory exhibition for the Rotary Club, in which he was given 20 words within very few minutes and asked to repeat the word and its number from memory.

He said the feat is simple—and useless. Useless because the facts remembered in this manner are not retained for a substantial length of time.

Drawing a distinction between psychology and magic, Jones said magic is the explanation of the ignorant and superstitious for something which they can't explain.

He said psychology is the science of human behavior although it does include the study of animal behavior, also.

As an example of what Jones said some people believe magic he illustrated through the following:

He said he once heard of a local woman who demanded that she and her friends leave an evening movie in Amarillo to come back to her Canyon home. Ten minutes after arriving, she received a telephone call that her father had just died.

He said many believed this had some supernatural link.

But, upon his investigation, he found that the woman had agreed to come home early from the theater and that three hours after returning home, the woman received the telephone call.

Exaggeration, he indicated, is the case in many of these so-called supernatural events.

In other business at the Rotary meeting, it was noted that the club received more than $50 from its participation in the recent Halloween Carnival in downtown Canyon.

Ray Wreath of Mutual, Oklahoma visited recently in the home of his daughter, Mr. Wreath and Mrs. Triplett flew to Denver, Colorado to visit with another daughter and sister for a few days.

Dr. Green Appointed To Board

Dr. John E. Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts at WTSP, has been appointed one of 12 new examiners to make nationwide evaluations of schools of music at colleges, universities and conservatories.

He was appointed by the National Association of Schools of Music and the evaluations are necessary before a school is accredited by the association. All accredited schools are re-examined every 10 years.

Dr. Green is also head of the music department at WT and became a dean this semester when the departments of music, art and speech were organized into the School of Fine Arts.

"The workload of the NASM has become so large that it has become necessary to increase the number of examiners," Dr. Green said.

The association now has about 20 examiners and the newly appointed ones will meet Nov. 22 in Los Angeles just before the annual meeting of the association there on Nov. 23-26.

New Pledges For Fall ROTC

The Society of Scabbard and Blade, honorary ROTC fraternity, has 27 new pledges this fall.

Those selected were:

Assistant Is Hired

Randall County Juvenile Probation Officer Woody Pond will have a new assistant as of Nov. 21.

The new county employee is Harold Wayne Mann, 28, of 3107-A Curtis Drive in Amarillo.

Mann, a native of Arkansas and a graduate of West Texas State University, has worked with the Amarillo Police Department since 1964 and has been with the juvenile division there since January of this year.

He is currently working on his masters degree at WT. He and his wife, Melinda, have a 9-month-old son.

Farm union

At least three representatives of the Farmers Union from Kansas and Nebraska will seek new memberships in Randall County Monday through Wednesday.

Jay Naman, Texas president of the Farmers Union, will appear in Canyon Wednesday night.

Bob Lindsey, county president, said the three will arrive in Amarillo along with 38 other "flying organizers" Monday. The three are assigned to recruit members in this county.

While in the area, Lindsey will coordinate with the three to contact local farmers about memberships.

A membership barbecue will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Junior Livestock Building. All residents are invited and charge is $1.75 for all you can eat. Naman will be special guest at the barbecue.

The representatives will leave the area Thursday.

Fest day

Annual German Sausage Festival at Umbarger will be served today, Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

The menu will include German sausage, homemade sauerkraut, homemade breads and the trimmings. Tickets for the meal are $2 for adults and $1 for under age 12.

Open to the public, the parish hall will also house a "country store" and "bazaar" where homebaked breads, desserts and canned goods will be offered for sale along with novelty gift items. Funds from the festival go into the remodeling fund for the community church, St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Festival activities will conclude with a dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. in parish hall. Tickets for the dance are $1.50 per person and playing will be Bobby Hughes and the Western Heartbeats.

Folk singer

A song writer and folk-rock singer, Keith Sykes, will appear nightly Monday through Friday on the West Texas State University campus.

Sykes, who has seen America as a truck driver, service station attendant, farm worker, bus boy, will present his folk-rock music in two shows nightly, one at 7:30 p.m. and another at 9 p.m.

This shows will be in the Cellar, a converted storage room in the basement of the student union building.

Sykes' appearance at WTSU is sponsored by the Student Activities Council.

Admission is 25 cents for students with identification cards and $1 for those without.

Veteran Day

The 47th annual Veteran's Day breakfast for all ex-servicemen and their families will be held Tuesday, November 11, from 7-8:30 a.m. in the American Legion Hall in Canyon.

The menu will include eggs, bacon, toast, jelly and other breakfast trimmings and will be served at no charge by the sponsoring American Legion group.

Adult smokers harm health of children

Is the health of children in danger because adults around them smoke? Yes, says a West Texas State University health and physical education professor who recently conducted research on the subject.

Dr. A. J. Luquette said results of his study showed that a smoking environment increased the heart rate, blood pressure and amount of carbon monoxide in the blood of the children tested.

He said his research was not extensive enough to say that cancer was a possibility as a result of continued exposure to cigarette smoking.

Luquette presented his findings in a paper prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the American School Health Association in Philadelphia Saturday (Nov. 8). The research was done as part of his doctoral studies at Texas A&M University last summer.

Using a group of 103 children aged 6 to 13, Luquette said he subjected them to 30 minutes in a poorly ventilated room with heavy smokers.

"Although the long-range effect on the health of children subjected to cigarette smoke is not yet known, the immediate effect is similar to the smoke's effect on the smoker, but on a smaller scale," he said.

"Nonsmoking elementary and school-age children from nonsmoking homes react in much the same manner to a 30-minute exposure to a cigarette smoking environment as do nonsmoking elementary and school-age children from smoking homes."

He said the effect was the same on girls tested as on boys.

Luquette, 43, joined the West Texas State faculty this fall after completing work on his Ph. D. at Texas A&M, where he was a graduate assistant since 1967. He received a bachelor of science degree from Stephen F. Austin State College in 1951 and a master of education degree from the University of Texas in 1957.

A native of Beaumont, he was a teacher and athletic coach at W. B. Ray High School, Corpus Christi, and athletic director at Brenham Independent School District prior to his doctoral studies.

He has published numerous articles in professional journals such as Texas Coach, Scholastic Coach and the Journal of School Health.

Col. Paul L. Bogen, deputy chief of staff for reserve forces of city. The colonel visited the campus Thursday. He was impressed with WTSU's ROTC program and cadets.

Protests inconsistent, paradoxical Colonel sees ROTC as scapegoat

BY CARROLL WILSON

The Reserve Officer Training Corps has become a scapegoat for various factions opposing a war which is neither easy to understand or popular, a representative of Fourth U. S. Army said Thursday.

Col. Paul L. Bogen, deputy chief of staff for reserve forces in the army area, told the Canyon Sunday News that ROTC has become a target for protest because it is an overt symbol of the military and the military symbolizes the war in Vietnam.

Col. Bogen, who graduated with a ROTC commission in 1937, visited the West Texas State University campus several hours Thursday. He viewed members of the local ROTC detachment during drill exercises and met with university president James P. Cornette.

The colonel said recent protests of ROTC are paradoxical and inconsistent. "The military doesn't make war," he said, "They conduct war under the direction of a civilian authority."

The Army, he said, gives the country the security to allow the dissidents to be dissident.

Col. Bogen said it is paradoxical to note that the protestors are complaining of the militancy of the United States, while they use militant formats for their protests.

"To me this is much harder to understand than the sit-in," he said. "That was a passive thing and was consistent." The recent protests have had little effect on the ROTC program throughout the country, he said.

"As you know, ROTC has been discontinued at such places as Harvard and Dartmouth and at others in the future," the colonel said. "The interesting thing is that we still have some 150 colleges who have expressed a desire to have a ROTC unit."

"The important thing is that, as General Westmoreland stated, he is sure that the graduate who took ROTC at other schools will be glad to lead the privates from Harvard."

Col. Bogen said it is the feeling of the command of 4th Army that ROTC is "in the best tradition of our country."

He said through ROTC men bring broad (See COLONEL, Page 6)

Utility line request tabled by commission

A request by Arch Hunsley through his attorney Rhett Plank to extend sewer and water lines to a new apartment complex in the Hunsley Hills addition was tabled Thursday night by the Canyon City Commission on recommendation by Mayor Paul Lindsey.

Plank gave a brief description of the property and its location and told the commission that an agreement had previously been made to extend the lines to the property upon completion of the addition.

Mayor Lindsey questioned the legality of the previous agreement (made by a previous city commission) and also questioned whether or not the agreement by a previous commission was binding on the present one.

"It's my understanding that at the time of the agreement, work was to start on a motel within about two weeks and that was two years ago," Mayor Lindsey said. The mayor then asked Plank if there were still plans for a motel.

"There are no plans on the drawing board as such," Plank said, "because the prior deal fell through, but as soon as money can be secured a motel will be built."

The mayor said he didn't know whether the agreement to extend lines to a motel at one location should be binding to include extension of lines to an apartment project at another location.

"I'm concerned about the whole thing, including whether the agreement to extend the lines was in violation of a city ordinance at that time and whether keeping such an agreement would be in violation of a city ordinance now."

"I'd be in favor of tabling action until we have consulted our city attorney and get his legal opinion on these questions. He is out of town right now, but I think we need to talk to him and see

KALAMAZOO, MICH.--West Texas State's Buffaloes scored a pair of touchdowns in both the second and third quarters to defeat Western Michigan's aggressive Broncs 28-20 here Saturday afternoon before 15,500 fans.

Paced by the power running of Duane Thomas, the Buffs' offense was in control of the game through most of its 60-minute period.

Thomas tallied three times and rambled for 169 yards in 25 carries. Twice more the Buffs threatened but fumbles halted those scoring chances.

On their first possession, the Buffs moved to the Bronco 8 yard line but Buff Quarterback Clarence Redic pitched wildly to halfback Olan Thompson and Western Michigan recovered at its own 12-yard line.

Later in the first quarter, the Broncs moved 70 yards in 13 plays to score and take a 7-0 lead. Quarterback Ted Grignon who also scored three times, scampered over from the one to climax that move.

John Mowatt booted the first of three straight conversion attempts with 2:16 remaining in the quarter.

Ralph Anderson set the Buffs in motion with a 41-yard punt return to the Western Michigan 35-yard line in the second quarter.

Olan Thompson scored six plays later from the two. Redic kicked the first of four straight conversions with 5:23 remaining in the half.

The Buffs struck with 17 seconds remaining in the second quarter on a Thomas ramble of one yard. The 67-yard, 10 play drive was highlighted with a 27-yard pass interference penalty. A Bronco defender tripped flanker Robert Jackson at the two-yard line to cause that violation.

Bill McKinney, who was credited with five unassisted and 16 assisted tackles during the clash, set up the Buffs' third touchdown with a pass interception at the Bronco 37. Four plays later, Thomas sprinted up the middle for 19 yards and Redic's conversion made it 21-7.

Western Michigan moved 82 yards in 9 plays, helped along by a 15-yard unassisted conduct call against the Buffalo bench and a 12-yard facemask violation to score its second touchdown.

Grignon scrambled over from the one. The Buffs put the game out of reach in the later fourth quarter on a 3-yard ramble by Thomas. That score came with 5:12 remaining in the third quarter.

Thomas' scoring run was set up on a 13-yard jump pass from Redic to tight end Willie Walker.

The Broncs drove for their final touchdown in the fading minutes of the game and Grignon climaxed the move on a two-yard

Rangers whop Eagles for fourth CHS loss

BY PAUL BASCUS

Perryton kept its district title hopes alive Friday night with a hard-earned 21-6 victory over the Canyon Eagles, who suffered their fourth setback in a row.

As in most games this year, the Eagle defense played well, keeping the Rangers off the scoreboard for nearly three full quarters, but the Canyon offense gave little support until late in the fourth quarter when it found itself trailing 14-0.

After a scoreless first half, in which the Eagles managed only a single first down and never penetrated Ranger territory, Perryton quarterback Danny McWhorter capitalized on a one-yard punt by Allen Bedell which gave the Rangers the ball on the Canyon 30-yard line.

Eight plays later, on fourth down and 11, McWhorter arched a perfect strike to end David Graham in the end zone with 27 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Rangers then tried for two points on a fake kick, but McWhorter overthrew his receiver and the score remained 6-0. Robert Bull returned the ensuing kickoff 17 yards to put the Eagles in business at their own 28, but once again the offense failed to click and after three running plays Bedell got off a fine 43-yard punt which was returned to the Perryton 32-yard line.

From there McWhorter engineered a 68-yard scoring drive in 11 plays, personally gaining 37 yards himself on three carries. Fullback Phil Slack carried the final half yard for the touchdown and a two-point pass from McWhorter to Sandy Vandagriff gave the Rangers a 14-0 lead.

A penalty against the Rangers resulted in their having to kick off from their own 25-yard line and a 20-yard return by David Erwin to the Canyon 45 ignited the Eagles' only real offensive display of the game.

On the second play of the drive, Mike Swartzell hit Bedell with a 26-yard bullet to give the Eagles a first down at the Perryton 29. After an end around play, with Bedell carrying, which failed to gain, and two incomplete passes, it appeared once more that the Eagle offense had fizzled, but on fourth down and 10 Swartzell faded back, pumped once and rifled the ball to Pat Hickman at the Perryton 9 from where it was first and goal. A muffed play put the ball back on the 12, but on second down Swartzell threaded the needle to Hickman in the end zone and the Eagles were back in the game. The kick for PAT was wide, but trailing 14-6 the Eagles still entertained hopes of a tie.

The elated Hickman, after snagging the scoring pass, threw the ball in the air and a nearby official promptly threw a red flag on the ground to enforce a new rule provision.

Scouts set $3,200 goal in campaign

A goal of $3,200 has been set for the general fund campaign this year for the Randall District of the Boy Scouts of America, according to Gene McGlasson, campaign chairman.

An advanced gift drive to benefit the Boy Scouts is almost completed now. Funds raised in the advanced gift drive are being handled by Bennie Cooper.

At a meeting Friday morning, McGlasson and George Ochs, district scout executive, met with a group of scout campaign supporters at the Canyon High School cafeteria.

Coffee and donuts were served to the group as McGlasson outlined general plans for the finance campaign which will kick-off with a luncheon meeting at noon November 13 at the American Legion Hall. All majors, captains and workers are urged to attend the luncheon where prospect cards will be distributed and plans will be finalized for the campaign of the district.

Named as majors for the 1969 campaign are Mrs. Bob Brotherton, Group A; Mrs. Lee Roy Moreland, Group B; Bill May, Group C; Clifford Baker, Group D; Rhett Plank, Group E; and David West, Group F.

Each major is responsible for five captains in his or her group and the captains in turn enlist five workers for their team.

It is expected that the finance campaign will be completed within about one week after the kickoff luncheon on Thursday.

The country store offerings at the annual Umbarger German Sausage Festival will include homebaked breads, pies, cakes, cookies, and even breads and home canned jams and jellies. Here Mrs. Ben Buecker, country store chairman, is shown with a selection of the items which will be available Sunday, November 9, at festival time.

WT Minor League Ball Player Wants To Make It Big

BY PAUL BASCUS
Don Engbers has been a lot of places and seen a lot of things for his age but he hasn't made it the place he wants to go most and he hasn't seen what he wants to see most.

He's enjoyed where he's been and the things he's done, but not nearly so much as he will enjoy where he's going - or at least, sincerely hopes to go.

Engbers is a 26-year-old athlete who has been playing-for-pay in baseball's minor leagues since he was 18. He envisions himself someday standing in a major league ball park facing a major league pitcher and watching a white blur issue from the mound for just an instant before he belts it out of the park.

"Twenty-six is kind of old for a baseball player," Engbers smiled as he relaxed in his Amarillo apartment the other day.

"But with the expansion teams... it takes a lot of ball players."

The former Amarillo Giant, currently studying for a degree in physical education at West Texas State University, has set no age limit on his playing days nor is he discouraged about his chances of making it with the big leagues someday.

Unless he is taken by another club in the winter draft, Engbers will go to spring training in March in the World Champion New York Mets' system, but surprisingly enough, he would just as soon be drafted by a weaker major league team.

"Being in the Mets' system two or three years ago it would have been different, but now - they're the champions. I don't mean to say I was unhappy with them. They've treated me good, but let's face it, they're just loaded with first basemen.

"I'd rather be with the big leagues with a weak team than within the minor leagues with the Mets."

Last season was his first with the Mets' system and played for the Memphis Blues in the Texas League. The Mets picked him up after he had a contract hassle with the San Francisco Giants' front office and refused to report to spring training. His beef was he wasn't getting to play Triple A ball and he thought he should.

"I don't think I was given a good chance to make it by the Giants, and getting picked up by the Mets was a real good break because I got away from a team that just hadn't treated me good."

Engbers' argument that he should be given a Triple A contract was based on his 1968 season with the Amarillo Giants.

All he did with the Giants was lead the team in RBIs with 55 and hit a solid .287.

"When I went with the Mets I was told that if I got off to a good start they would probably move me right on up to triple A," the Evansville, Ind., native said.

"But it didn't work out. I got off to a slow start and came on in the latter part of the season real good."

He finished the season with a .293 batting average and when the Blues won their division of the Texas League he was afforded the great pleasure of facing his old teammates in Amarillo in the playoffs.

"One of my biggest thrills was hitting that homerun against Amarillo when we beat them 4-1."

That was in the second game of the series which was won by Memphis in a three-game sweep.

While playing with Amarillo, Engbers decided he liked it here and decided to finish his schooling at WTSU. Helping him to make that decision was the fact that he couldn't get back in the National Guard in Indiana and was already in here. Then, too, his wife, Margie, was teaching school in Amarillo. She teaches at Lee Bivins.

Would he like to coach baseball someday?

"Well, possibly, but if I did I would want to coach the younger boys, say from the 7th to 9th grade. At that age, you get the kids who come out for baseball because they like to play."

"When they get older, they're out to impress the girls or trying to be big shots. I wouldn't want to coach in college unless it was at a school that emphasized baseball. Not some place where baseball is just a rinky-dink sport."

Engbers loves all sports and enjoys discussing football, basketball or any of the others. At WT he utilizes the gym for running, playing handball and basketball to keep in shape during the off season, and when the weather permits, likes to get out on the links.

"That would be another good thing about coaching on the junior high level," he said. "I'd get to coach other sports besides just baseball."

Engbers started his baseball career at the age of 18 when the Baltimore Orioles signed him to a bonus contract right out of American Legion ball.

Since then he has been from coast to coast with all kinds of teams. They include Bluefield, W. Va., in the Rookie League, and Appleton, Wis., a Class A, where he finished his first year as a professional with a .270 batting average.

The Giants drafted Engbers after his first year and went to spring training with the Giants in 1963. He played that year at Decatur, Ill., in the Midwest League and went to Phoenix to play winter ball.

"That was the year I learned to hit," he said.

The following season he went to Fresno in the California League where he had a good year at the plate belting 20 homers.

"I thought I was on my way then, but I went into the Army for six months active duty that winter and the Army didn't help me at all."

"After I got out the Giants moved me up to Double A ball at Springfield, Mass., in the Eastern League and had a poor season. I hit poorly and just wasn't ready for the jump to Double A ball. I was 21 years old and one of the youngest players in the league."

The next two years he played for the same team, though it had moved to Waterbury, Conn. His second year in the Eastern League he described as "mediocre" but the following year he finished 10th in the League in hitting.

"I went to spring training thinking I'd finally get a chance to go to Triple A ball, but I didn't. I went to Amarillo. I had a good year here, but I didn't get to play as much as most of the others because I had to go to summer camp with the Guards. Summer Camp hurt me."

It was while playing for the Amarillo Giants that he and Margie got married. They were married in Amarillo on a Saturday morning and Engbers played a game that night.

"I had a real good game that night," Engbers laughed.

Mrs. Engbers is also a native of Evansville, but her marriage to the baseball player was not the culmination of a childhood romance.

"Aw, I knew her in high school, but I didn't ever talk to her much or anything. We started going together a lot later when I was going to college there during the off season."

And how has it been being married to a baseball player on the move?

"It's been fun," Mrs. Engbers said.

"During the home stands it's really great," Engbers agreed. "I can sleep late and lounge around by the pool. Then play a game at night and after that we'll get together with some of the other couples and play cards and visit."

The road trips are a little different.

"About the shortest road trip was seven days and some of them mean you'll be gone for two weeks. That's when it gets to be kind of a drag. You'll be in a strange town where you don't know anybody and there's not really much to do until you go out to the park."

DZ Guest Night Slated Monday

Guest night for Delta Zeta alumnae sorority chapter will be Monday at 7:30 o'clock as the group convenes at De'Ons for a fashion review.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Doan Lusk, Judy Roberts and Sandra Kuehn.

So how do the players spend their time?

"We'll go to afternoon movies, or shoot pool, play cards or just walk around on the streets looking in store windows. This next season, though, I'll be taking some extension courses and I can study on the road trips."

The good-natured athlete said he is getting a little tired of his routine this fall and would be interested in working while going to school.

2-Man Art Exhibit Set

The first two-man art exhibit to be given by senior art students in the newly established School of Fine Arts at West Texas State University will open next Sunday with a reception from 2-5 p.m.

The exhibit will hang for two weeks featuring works by Tom Bontell and C. T. Caballero.

Presently the two artists are co-chairmen for the Alamo Catholic High School art department and are teaching junior high and high school art classes as a team. They are also team teaching as student teachers at Avondale Elementary and Tascosa High School as a final requirement for completion of the B. S. degree in art education and an all-levels teaching certificate.

"I'd really like to get a part time job. Maybe 20 hours a week or so. If I could find something where I could work outside it'd really be great."

Inside work would be great, too. Inside a major league ball park.

Don Engbers is concentrating on books this fall at WT instead of his batting average, but next spring he will once again hit the road he hopes leads to the major leagues.

Polygraph Aids Investigation

BY PAUL BASCUS

Merle Strickland is a Randall County deputy sheriff. He's in charge of identification and records. He's a jailer. And, what many people don't know - he's the dean of the Panhandle polygraph examiners.

Strickland, while with the Amarillo Police Department in 1956, graduated from Keeler Polygraph Institute in Chicago and returned to Amarillo to become the first qualified polygraph examiner in the Panhandle area.

One might think that years of giving polygraph tests, mostly to persons accused of crimes, would prejudice the person giving the test to the extent that he would think it infallible. Such is not the case with Strickland, who is the first to admit the polygraph machine has its limitations.

"I think it is a fine instrument when used for what it was meant to be used for," Strickland said. "It is meant to be an aid to investigation."

"The polygraph examination is based on the response of the body systems to a stimulus, the stimulus being the question asked. The most important thing in giving an examination is the type of question asked and how it is phrased."

The deputy explained that the machine records changes in the body systems, mainly the respiratory and vascular systems.

"If a person is asked a question which he feels will be damaging to him if answered truthfully and he lies, there will be a reaction of the body systems which is recorded by the machine. You might say that the reactions are caused by fear of discovery."

Are there ways to throw the machine off so that it will not record accurately when the person being tested is telling the truth?

"I've had people try a lot of things that will make it difficult to arrive at any conclusive results. I've known people to take medications, alcoholic beverages, drugs and other things that affect their body systems, but usually it will show up that they took something. It's hard to tell what they took, but usually the fact they took something become obvious. If they've taken a depressant, their reactions will be slower. If they've taken a stimulant their reactions will be faster."

Strickland said that when he gives an examination, basically only one issue is resolved per examination.

"Usually the issue is whether a person participated in something he is alleged to have participated in."

Strickland said that he comes up with positive results - that is, either the person is telling the truth or the person is not telling the truth about a particular issue - 90 per cent of the times he gives examinations. The other 10 per cent of the time the results are inconclusive - that is, he cannot tell whether the person is telling the truth or not.

"I don't feel the polygraph examination is conclusive to the extent it should be accepted 100 per cent in court," Strickland said. "With most normal people with normal reactions you can usually reasonably tell whether or not they are telling the truth. But then you have the people who are not normal."

"For instance, someone with a guilt complex is extremely hard to examine and come up with conclusive results because almost anything you ask him will result in a radical change in the body systems and the recording of a radical reaction by the machine."

"But, over the years I've found the polygraph machine a very accurate instrument."

"There have been many times when a person would be brought in and the examination would show him to be lying, but there was no other evidence. Then later evidence would turn up and it would be proven that the polygraph results were correct."

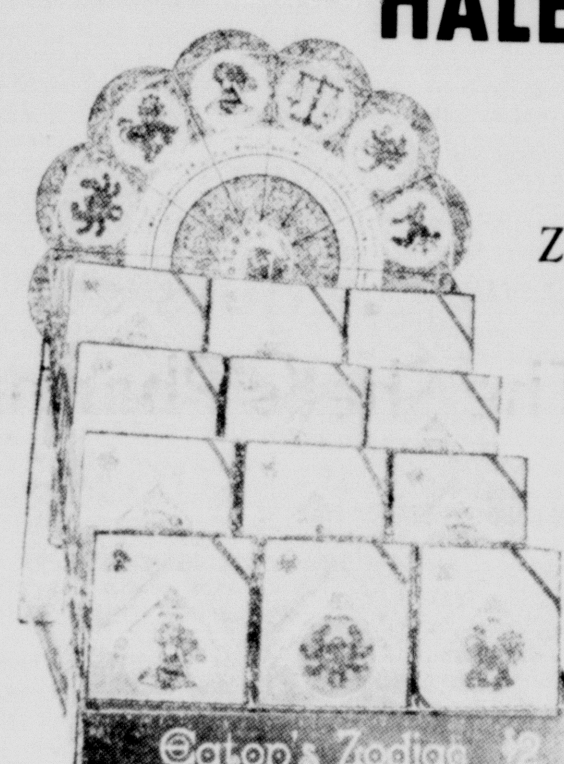

"On the other hand, there have been many instances in which a person would be accused of something and the evidence against him would be insurmountable, while the polygraph would show he was telling the truth. Then, later physical evidence would be found to prove he was telling the truth and that the polygraph was right. Cases like that are probably the most satisfying aspect of conducting polygraph examinations."

Randall County employs the use of two polygraph machines and Strickland conducts an average of 200 tests a year. He said he doesn't conduct as many as he once did, mainly because there are more polygraph examiners more widely distributed than before.

He said when he first began conducting polygraph examinations, the Texas Department of Public Safety only had examiners in Austin, while now they have them at various points throughout the state to aid investigations by law enforcement agencies that did not have a machine or an examiner.

A polygraph machine normally costs anywhere from $1,400 to $2,500, Strickland said. Strickland, a native of Roger Mills County, Oklahoma, is a veteran of World War II, during which he served as a tail gunner on a B-17 in the Army Air Corps in the European Theater. After the war he came to the Amarillo area for a time, then returned to Roger Mills County. He came to this area to stay in 1951 when he went to work for the Amarillo Police Department. He left the APD in 1957 and became a Randall County deputy in 1958.

ALL AROUND OUR TOWN

BY JOAN FOWLKES
(Editor's Note: Items of interest can be turned in to Mrs. Fowlkes by calling 372-5914.)

Lisa Estes and some of her friends were entertained with a Halloween party Friday before last in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Baskett.

It was a costume affair with two of the guests vying for the position of having the best costume. The tie was between Cynthia Scott and Ivey Dugan. Prizes were awarded to each.

Spook games were played with Jill Ellingwood winning the prize for "Freeze The Spook".

Refreshments of cheese and dips, decorated cupcakes, orange sherbet, and orange punch were served to the guests.

They were Gary and Linda Nestaby, Ellen Livesay, Ivey Dugan, Jill Ellingwood, Cynthia Scott, and Lisa.

The girls stayed for a slumber party afterward and all attended the West Texas State University homecoming parade the next morning.

State Drill Teams To Compete

Military Drill teams from five universities in the tri-state area will compete at 8 a.m. Saturday in West Texas State University's fourth annual drill competition. Sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade Society, a military fraternity, of the WTSU ROTC Unit, the drill meet will include contests for both men and women.

The drill competition, held on the parade field behind Jarrett Hall dormitory, will be judged by men from Detachment 2, Company B, 12th Special Forces Group, stationed in Amarillo, according to Captain John Osborne, advisor to the WTSU drill team.

Vying for top awards in the men's division will be teams representing St. Mary's of San Antonio, Tarleton State, Texas Tech, Panhandle A & M, New Mexico Military Institute, and West Texas State University. Universities sponsoring girls' teams include Tarleton State, Texas Tech, and West Texas State.

The men will be evaluated in three areas: inspection, regulation drill, and fancy drill. The girls will compete only in fancy drill, Osborne said. Points will be given according to skill, bearing, and appearance.

Trophies, presented by Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science at WTSU, will be given to first-place winners in each division and the two best over-all teams in both men and women competition. A special Commander's Trophy will be awarded the commander of the men's and women's teams exhibiting the best command and control, bearing and appearance. The awards ceremony at 11:30 a.m. will conclude the morning's competition.

Cadre officers sponsoring the various drill teams will be the guests of the WTSU ROTC detachment, Osborne said. He also said that the competition should be rugged, since "St. Mary's of San Antonio has one of the best drill teams in the nation." He pointed out that the cadre sponsor for the Panhandle team served as a young lieutenant with Captain Rosser of the WTSU detachment and that a friendly rivalry will probably be in effect.

The drill competition is scheduled to coincide with the weekend activities celebrating Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

Relevancy Of Church To Business Talked

The Rev. Charles Pedersen described the church as a corporation Friday and asked members of the Canyon Kiwanis Club how much value they place on that corporation's product.

The Rev. Mr. Pedersen, of the Episcopal Student Center in Canyon, said various meetings of the church, including the Sunday worship service, must compete today with meetings of other organizations for the businessman's time.

He asked the relevancy to the businessman of the time spent in church meetings and worship services.

The businessman attends the church in a dual role—as a human and as a businessman.

"As a human, I think what you want to find in church is that you want to be enabled to celebrate life," he said. "We want to find joy."

As a businessman, he said, the person seeks and contributes to high standards in performance and goal setting in the same way that these things spell success or failure in the business world.

When the businessman attends church meetings, he should ask himself if the meeting is relevant, if he can express himself freely in the meeting and if the material presented is relevant to the needs.

Commission To Consider PRPC Funds

Funding for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission will be considered Monday by Randall County Commissioners.

The commission last Monday tabled a request by the PRPC for funds. The request for funds stirred a controversy among the commissioners, who in early September passed a resolution favoring a regional planning commission operated with no budget.

Commissioner Bill Butler voiced the commission's concern Wednesday at the weekly meeting of the PRPC in Amarillo.

He also questioned the need for an executive director of the planning entity.

Other business slated for Monday's commission session are bids for signs for road maintenance vehicles and a typewriter for the county judge's office.

Commissioners meet at 10 a.m. in the Randall County Courthouse.

Utility. . . .

(Continued from Page 1) said the city ordinance he referred to was one providing that a developer bear the expense of bringing in sewer and water lines.

"That ordinance was passed in 1961 and there was no mention, to my knowledge, of making an exception or allowing for it in any way when the agreement was made two years ago," Hunsley's only comment during the meeting was during discussion of the proposed motel construction.

"Commercial money is nearly impossible to secure right now and motels are near the bottom of the list. The interest rates are so high."

"Even if the city made it a city-wide project, I don't know where we would get the money. It will be built in time."

The commissioners also heard a short presentation by Pat Sasser of Amarillo, a representative of Dale Carnegie, who sought commission approval for City Manager Howard Northcutt to attend a management seminar at a cost of $225.

The seminar would be held in Canyon beginning Nov. 17 and would include sessions each Monday for five weeks.

After the presentation, Mayor Lindsey said, "I'm sure the program is fine, but I don't see any connection with our business. It might be all right for private business. I think it would be the city manager's business, if he thought it in the city's interest, to approach us on the subject. I'm not interested in the city participating. I really don't see how it would be of much value to him."

Colonel. . . .

The colonel noted that in the Army today 75 per cent of the lieutenants and 40 per cent of the general officers are ROTC graduates.

He said total enrollment in the 4th Army area in ROTC programs declined about 20 per cent this school year.

But, he said, this decline was due to a change in Louisiana's colleges from a mandatory ROTC program to an optional program.

"We have actually increased in military science three and four," he said. "Officer production should be the greatest this year. ROTC should produce more than 2,500 officers in this Army area."

While on the campus, Col. Bogen was hosted by Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science. The colonel viewed Hero Field, the ROTC physical training course, and the military classrooms.

He was impressed with the WTSU detachment.

"I'm not only impressed by the young men's interest, sharpness and looks, but I am impressed by the atmosphere," he said. "They have pride in the proficiency and effectiveness of their corps."

"This very kind of pride and support is what we need to keep our nation secure. This kind of pride is something which the school and the people of the state of Texas can be most proud of because it's their school."

Following his visit to WTSU, the colonel viewed reserve force facilities in Amarillo.

Livestock Association Sets Meeting

Randall County Junior Livestock Association will have an annual membership meeting Thursday night, November 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Officers and directors of the JLA will be elected at the meeting to be held in the Junior Livestock Building.

Plans will also be discussed for the 23rd annual junior livestock show.

Rangers. . . .

The Eagles then found themselves kicking off from their own 25 and the Rangers were set up in good field position at their own 48.

But the fired up Eagle defense, intent on giving the ball back to the offense, rose up to smother the Perryton runners and forced the Rangers to punt with 2:52 seconds left in the game.

Knowing it would probably be their last chance, the Eagles went to the air, but alas, on the very first play Swartzell's pass was picked off and all hope died.

The disappointed Canyon defenders allowed Perryton's Tom Lofland to break up the middle for 19 yards, after he momentarily seemed stopped at the line of scrimmage and the Rangers had a first down at the Canyon 26.

Then McWhorter sent workhorse Howie Lewis crashing to the 12 and with the clock ticking off the final seconds, the junior quarterback connected on a jump pass to Steve Elzey at the four.

McWhorter carried over for the touchdown with 17 seconds left in the game to make the game score look more lopsided than it really was.

The two of Tim Ohmes put the ball through the uprights for the final Ranger point.

The Eagles had the ball for one more play before the game ended with Erwin picking up 10 yards on a run.

The Eagles play Muleshoe here next Friday night and finish the season at Tulia on Nov. 21 and with victories in those games can still post a winning record of 5-4-1. If they can come up with an offense to complement their strong defensive platoon, the Eagles could ring up the first winning season since entering AAA competition six years ago.

Dutch Lunch Set Thursday

A "dutch luncheon" will be held by the Welcome Wagon Club for all club members and new residents of the city on Thursday at the Gold Room of the east dining hall at West Texas State University.

Reservations for the luncheon are requested by Monday, November 10, and may be made by calling Mrs. Lewis Blaylock, Mrs. Jeffe Moses or Mrs. Rowie Durden, WW hostess, 655-3228.

9th White Hits Dimmitt

Gerber also threw four passes for two-point conversions with Hanson on the receiving end of three of them and Steve Williams taking the other.

White scored on touchdown on a quarterback sneak and Hanson added a two-point conversion with a run.

The Whites will seek to improve their record Thursday when they go to Hereford to take on Hereford Stanton at 5:30 p.m.

The 9th grade Purple team, which had an open date last week, hosts Friona Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

SPY Citizens Have 1st Meet

Twenty-four "sixty plus years" residents gathered in fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church Thursday afternoon for a discussion and a planning for future meetings.

Lou Ella Patterson was named temporary chairman for the group. Plans were made for a second meeting to be held November 20 beginning at 3 p.m. in fellowship hall of the same church.

The non-denominational meeting was attended by representatives of five city churches Thursday. A devotional and singing was led by Myrtle Nicholas and the remainder of the meeting was used for discussion, various games and refreshments.

4-H Awards Underway

Annual 4-H awards program and banquet was held Saturday evening at the Rex Reeves Elementary School cafeteria.

At press time, numerous county 4-H honors were to be presented to county 4-H students including the Gold Star Boy and Girl awards, which are the highest county honors given.

Speaking to the group of 4-Hers and parents at the banquet was Bert Keith, detective with the Amarillo Police Department narcotics division.

Awards listings will be presented in the Thursday issue of The Canyon News.

JV Wins Again

Canyon High's unbeaten junior varsity rolled to its seventh win of the season Thursday night with an easy 63-6 romp over Alamo High School's junior varsity.

The JV Eagles received the opening kick-off and scored in two plays with John Hoover going the final 30 yards off tackle.

Rick Edmonson scored on a 12-yard run the next time the Eagles got the ball and the second offense took over for the remainder of the half to run the score up to 33-0.

The score at the end of three quarters was 49-0 with the Mustangs' lone touchdown coming in the final period on a deflected pass that was almost intercepted by an Eagle defender.

Eagles participating in the touchdown parade included Earl Malone, on runs of 9 and 6 yards, Duane Harp, on a 35-yard return of an intercepted pass, Clifford Pritchard on a 40-yard run and a 30-yard pass from Mike Shaddix, Eddie Jacobs, on a 12-yard pass from Chuck Wright. Edmonson also scored on a 25-yard run.

Edwin McBride kicked 7 of 9 PATs.

Though he didn't score, coaches were pleased with the performance of Mike Podzemny, who snagged three passes for 90 yards.

Tackles Rick Hartline and Randall Smith and center, Bobby Gregg were singled out for fine blocking in the offensive line.

Next Thursday the junior varsity plays Tulia there at 7 p.m. while the sophomores host Friona at 7 p.m. at the High School Field.

Rotary Club Meets Tuesday

Canyon Rotary Club will meet Tuesday noon at the American Legion Hall for a regular business session and a program by Dr. T. Paige Carruth.

In connection with Rotary Foundation Month, Dr. Carruth is expected to outline benevolence, funds and goals of the Rotary Foundation.

Western Michigan totaled 29 first downs and 300 yards rushing and 114 passing but most of their movement was on their end of the field, as the Buff defenders were tough when they needed to be.

Grignon rushed 31 times for 140 yards and completed 8 of 24 passes for 97 yards.

Redic was the second leading Buff ball carrier with 14 carries for 45 yards. The Buff quarterback hit on five of 10 passes for 106 yards.

The last time the Buffs met the Falcons was 1965 when Buffalo Bowl was filled to capacity. The Buffs won that one 34-0.

Local Firemen Kept Busy

Canyon firemen were kept busy during the latter part of last week responding to calls for various fires.

About 4 p.m. Wednesday, they extinguished a car fire in the 900 block of 23rd Street. The car, belonging to Nancy Lee, sustained moderate damage from the electrical fire.

Firemen were called to the new Physical Activities Building on the West Texas State University campus about 11 a.m. Thursday when a tar cart caught afire. Only moderate damage to the cart was reported.

About 4 p.m. Thursday, a hot water heater developed a gas leak, ignited and blew itself out before firemen arrived at the scene, a home east of Canyon.

Chi Omega Alums Set Salad Meal

Co-hostesses will be Leta Boswell, Vada White, Sally Nester and Jean Lair.

Falcon coach Don Nehlen is in second year at Bowling Green. During the 1968 season his Falcons tallied a 6-3-1 record.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Troy Martin and Amy, Mrs. Bob Stewart and Donna, Mrs. James Latimer, Mrs. Bob Harper, Mrs. Carl Miller, the honoree, Mrs. Wilson, and hostess, Mrs. Castleman.

The three CHS majorettes received Division II for solo performances and a Division III on ensemble performances.

Elementary Phys-Ed Courses Start Healthful Approach

BY LORENA MILLER
Physical education at the elementary level is not new to the Canyon Public School system although special phys-ed classes at this level are relatively new in many schools across the state. This is the eighth year of physical education at the elementary level here. Many schools in Texas are not equipped with teachers and facilities for teaching physical education in elementary schools. Canyon has two physical education teachers at Rex Reeves Elementary School and a third teacher works with the physical education program at Gene Howe Elementary School in the district.

Lowell Weaver, who teaches fourth, fifth and sixth grade physical education, finds that the elementary students afford a "tremendous amount of co-operation, discipline is easier and students are more eager to learn."

Mrs. Mary Ann Berry teaches the first, second and third grade physical education at Rex Reeves and said that "it is a thrill to see children, who haven't known how before, learn to jump the rope. The child is elated and it gives great satisfaction to the teacher also."

Physical education in the elementary schools covers over 1,000 students at Rex Reeves as both teachers work with about 500 students each day.

"We begin our 35 minute period with about ten minutes of calisthenics for each group of students," said Mrs. Berry.

Both Mrs. Berry and Weaver handle average classes of 60 students in physical education each period. In addition to the physical education instructors one of the two homeroom teachers involved comes to physical education with their students. The homeroom teachers alternate PE days.

"We try to vary activities from handling the ball and jumping rope to kick ball and team sports," said Mrs. Berry.

"In the first three grades team sports are limited as they (the kids) still like to play for themselves," she related.

In the upper elementary grades, the physical education program is diversified and "is the beginning of skills used in team sports" according to Lowell Weaver.

"In the early grades," said Mrs. Berry, "we try to give them interest in keeping their bodies in shape and by the third grade they have begun to lose interest in this phase so we begin to go into more team sports and activities."

Weaver, who formerly coached in junior high for two years, said that "crab soccer" is the favorite game for fourth through sixth grade students although they also play basketball, kickball, touch football, softball and volleyball. They are taught the basic skills of dribbling the basketball and passing or kicking football.

The "crab soccer" is played with students in a reclining position on all fours. The object is to remain in position kicking the ball about without ever losing balance and touching the floor with anything but the extremities.

According to Weaver, the "crab soccer" game is a favorite with both boys and girls.

At the early (first through third grade) level students are involved in a single class of physical education and from the fourth through sixth grades the boys and girls come to the same classroom, and then are divided into two separate groups. The homeroom teacher for one class works with either the boys or girls group each day and Weaver works with the other group.

At both levels, two homerooms go to physical education at the same period making for a class of about 60 students.

Fourth through sixth grade students have physical education in the all-purpose room and the first three grades have their PE classes in the north section cafeteria, except for the noon period when tables are set up to accommodate lunch for the older students.

Elementary students are not required to have special gym-suit equipment or tennis shoes and usually the older level of girls wear shorts beneath their skirts for physical education. The students often remove shoes for the classroom activity.

During the tumbling section, all girls are required to have shorts or wear slacks.

Each year, also, the students from the upper level of tumbling are selected to present a "tumbling show" during a high school basketball game. A few are picked from each of the classes to participate.

In addition to regular physical education classes, both Mrs. Berry and Weaver work with a special coordination class. This year only six are involved in the class which works on motor perceptual skills teaching the students hand, eye and body coordination.

The special class members are sent by homeroom teachers, selected through PE classes and in the class are taught to bounce a ball, walk a balance board, and work with a hanging ball for eye coordination.

This is the class teaching coordination which enables students to learn to read, sit still and learn and it is also worked in addition to a special reading class where other students are involved in similar exercise activities.

Mrs. Berry earned both the bachelor's and master's degrees at West Texas State University and has a special certified physical education instructor certificate from WT. This is her fourth year of teaching at Rex Reeves School. She has two children, one in the second grade and the other in the fifth grade at the school.

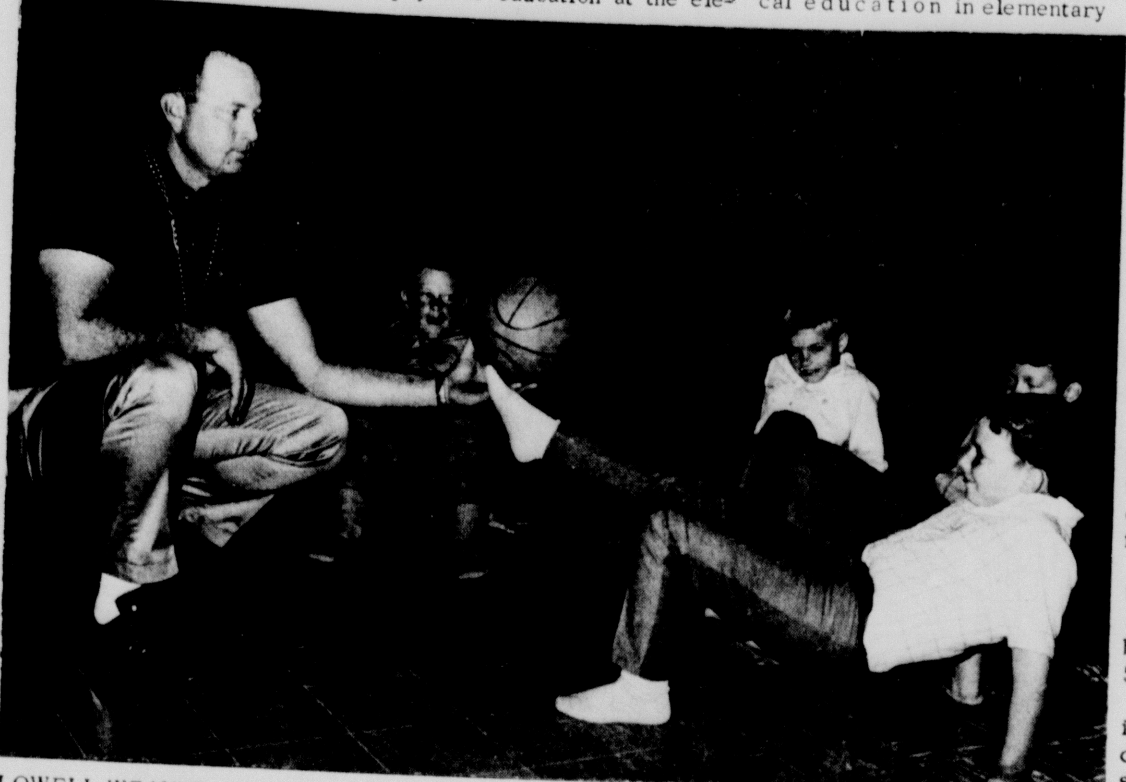

She said that her own children "accepted her as a teacher pretty well."

Weaver is a graduate of Wellman High School and earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Eastern New Mexico University. He has been with Rex Reeves School for three years and was formerly coaching at the junior high level here for two years during which time he worked with his oldest son, who is now a sophomore in college. His younger son is presently in his classes as a sixth grade student.

Elementary students each year have an in-school "track meet" offering ribbons for best in all types of physical education exercises and games. Weaver begins his day classes with a vigorous 5 minutes of calisthenics followed by a rotating line arrangement whereby one line of students does push-ups, while another line is doing jumping jacks, another line doing sit-ups. In addition to these three exercises students also do a squ thrust, body bender, toe touch and take running laps around the all-purpose room.

In addition to ball handling calisthenics, the two physical education instructors often find ideas at workshops such as the "parachute" game which is both economical for equipment and can involve up to 60 students at one time.

With the parachute, students can do sit-ups, make a cascading mushroom, play a type of ballgame and many other activities. The parachute game involves numerous muscles in the hand and arms, according to Mrs. Berry.

LOWELL WEAVER, physical education instructor for fourth through sixth grades at Rex Reeves Elementary School, illustrates the objective of "crab soccer" with fourth grade students, from left, Vince Price, Jeffrey Coleman, Matt Griffin and David Abbott. He says the game is "a favorite with both boys and girls".

News Brief

About ten Chi Rho members from the First Christian Church were entertained with a Halloween party last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ratliff.

CALISTHENICS open the daily session for classes of 60 students of the first grade as Mrs. Mary Ann Berry, physical education instructor for first through third grades, mingles among students during the opening segment of the 35-minute period.

News Brief

Richard Burgess of Dallas spent a week here recently visiting with his mother, Mrs. T. E. Burgess.

New Secretary For Baptists

How to get 3 different dinners from one thrifty chuck roast.

MEAT IS MONEY

Take advantage of sales and bargains. Buy meats listed as "plentiful" by the USDA, when available. When not, you can still get more for your money by shopping for advertised specials and buying larger cuts. Chuck Roast is a good example. A 9-lb. blade roast, 4 1/2 inches thick, yields enough high-protein, boneless meat for 3 fresh-cooked meals at a minimum cost for each dinner.

1 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO.

Cut through natural dividing seams of connective tissues and remove bones. The large center piece becomes a 3-lb. boneless Pot Roast.

2 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO.

Bone out meat around flat bone and cube it for 2-lbs. of stew, soup or casserole meat.

3 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO.

The smaller rib muscle is more tender and can be cut into 4 boneless steaks about 8-oz. each, to pan-broil.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH

2 onions, sliced
1/3 cup Wesson Oil
2 lbs. stew meat cut from your chuck roast in 1 1/2-inch cubes
1 Tablesp. paprika
2 teasp. salt
1/4 teasp. pepper
1 (6-oz.) can Hunt's Tomato Paste
1 1/2 cups water
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup sour cream, if desired
In Dutch oven cook onions in oil until tender, stirring frequently; remove and reserve. Combine paprika, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper; coat meat with mixture. Brown meat in drippings; return onions to pan. Stir in Hunt's Tomato Paste, water, garlic and remaining salt. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until meat is tender. (If necessary, add a bit more water for desired consistency.) Stir in sour cream; keep hot but do not boil. Will make 6 servings. Serve over hot noodles.

HARDY POT ROAST SUPPER

3 to 3 1/2 lb. pot roast, cut from your beef chuck roast, rolled
Salt and pepper
2 Tablesp. Wesson Oil
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 (8-oz.) or 1 (15-oz.) can Hunt's Tomato Sauce with Tomato Bits
1 cup water
1 onion, quartered
1 cup sliced celery
3 medium potatoes, pared and halved
6 carrots, quartered
Sprinkle roast with salt and pepper; brown in Wesson in Dutch oven, drain fat. Add garlic, Hunt's sauce, water and onion. Cover. Simmer 1 1/2 hours. Add vegetables, 1 1/2 teasp. salt; simmer, covered, 1-hour more. Makes 6 nourishing servings.

NOTHING SKIMPY about Hunt's sauce with Tomato Bits. It's extra rich with extra tomatoes, extra thick; goes farther in cooking.

FREE "Low Cost Cookery" Cookbook

of new easy recipes. Free when you buy any of these items at your local market: Hunt's Tomato Sauce, Hunt's Tomato Paste, Hunt's Catsup, Wesson Oil.
